

Something to talk about ...

Why leading hospitals are using TheraDoc®

Technology that's helping hospitals quickly respond to the H1N1 outbreak.

H1N1 monitoring, identification and reporting.

The H1N1 outbreak provides a vivid reminder that hospitals are on the front lines of infectious disease monitoring, identification, and reporting. Many hospitals have turned to TheraDoc's patient safety surveillance platform to more effectively respond to the outbreak. Alerts and other tools help them quickly identify and isolate potential cases, confirm positive cases, and improve communication and coordination.

We at TheraDoc understand the complexities of infection prevention.

Give us a call. We have something to talk about.
